

Who Says?
A Study of the Doctrine of Scripture

Who says? This is one of the fundamental questions of our age. Opinions abound as to what truth is, what authority should govern our lives, and where the answers to life's biggest questions can be found. As Christians, we believe the ultimate source of authority for our lives is found in the Word of God. In this study, we want to help our students understand and love the Bible for all that it is. The lessons are based on the first chapter of the Westminster Confession of Faith. Our prayer is that this series will equip our students with a deeper knowledge and love of God's revelation to His people.
